midnight. Most nights the last column stayed empty, and the keepers took some pride in that. In the winter of the great storm the record runs to four pages for a single night. The oil came by boat in spring and autumn, and a late boat meant a careful winter. A keeper's daughter wrote the entries for six years when her father's hands failed. The tower was painted every third summer, white below and red at the gallery. Visitors were few, and the book of their names fills less than a single page.
